EMPLOYMENT

Navajo Evangelical Lutheran Mission
P.O. Box 354, One Mission Lane
Rock Point, AZ 86545

2009--present

Co-pastor of the House of Prayer Lutheran (ELCA) church. My husband is NELM's Executive Director and we share pastoral duties at the House of Prayer. We are considered a team for operating an elementary school, a health clinic/wellness center and an ELCA congregation. We host numerous mission trips for groups from Lutheran churches around the country who want to work with the Navajo people, especially the children in our community here on the Navajo Nation.

Minister, part-time

January, 2005 to May, 2009

Served as pastor in a small town where my husband was the pastor of the ELCA church down the street! While we maintained our separate Sunday services, we did many ecumenical services jointly, including mission trips (New Orleans after Katrina with high school youth), confirmation classes with the youth, Lent, Advent, etc. After only two years as part time stated supply, the church moved me up to 3/4 time due to an increase in membership and worship attendance. My husband and I have always wanted to do ministry together, however, and decided to go to the Navajo Lutheran Mission where we could serve as a team.

Director, Center for Community Transformation

Jan. 2000 – Dec. 2004

Administrator of Lilly Endowment, Inc. funded research project in theological education. Seeking to bridge the gap between the church and the academy, I was responsible for teams of students and faculty engaging community leaders in diverse neighborhoods throughout Chicago; our goal was to learn about vital congregations and transformative leadership. I worked with smaller inner city churches as well as larger (over 1000 member) cathedral type churches--all defined as "vital congregations by the Alban institute.
